

Advokatfirman Delphi's Cookie policy

Cookies are used on the delphi.se website. Advokatfirman Delphi would like to use Google analytics cookies to analyse how our website is being used, in order to optimise the website. Consenting to our use of cookies is optional and you can at any time choose to withdraw your consent. By consenting to our use of cookies you consent to us collecting information about your device and about how you use the website. This data is then linked to Google's data about you. We also use necessary cookies that enable core functionality. We do not require your consent to use these cookies. Advokatfirman Delphi i Stockholm AB is the controller for the use of cookies on the website as well as for processing of your personal data that is collected through cookies when you visit delphi.se. For further information about our processing of personal data through cookies, please see our privacy policy.

What cookies are and how they are used

A cookie is a small text file that the website you are visiting asks you to save on your computer (similar devices with internet connection such as tablets and mobile phones are also included). For more general information about cookies, please see www.pts.se/cookies, www.aboutcookies.org and/or www.allaboutcookies.org/.

There are two types of cookies, persistent cookies and session cookies. Both types of cookies are used on Delphi's website. Session cookies are stored temporarily when you as a visitor visit and browse our website, and are deleted when you close your web browser. Persistent cookies are stored as a file on the computer during a period of time, until you as a visitor or the server that sent them, delete them.

Furthermore, cookies can be divided into first and third-party cookies. First-party cookies are set by the website owner (Delphi.se in this case) and third-party cookies are set by another website. Both first and third-party cookies are used on Delphi's website.

Delphi uses Google Analytics as a statistical analysis tool to get a picture of how our visitors use the website and to evaluate how the website can be developed, e.g. to improve the content, navigation and structure of the website.

Cookies that are used on delphi.se

Name	Information about the cookie	Retention period	Disclosure of information to third party Cookies that require your consent
_ga	Used by Google Analytics to identify a visit.	2 years	Yes, Google get access to the information collected by the cookie.
_gid	Used by Google Analytics to identify a visit.	24 hours	Yes, Google get access to the information collected by the cookie.

_gat_gtag_[Property-ID]	Used by Google Analytics to identify if a visitor (web browser) is new or recurrent.	1 minute	Yes, Google get access to the information collected by the cookie.
Cookies that we do not require your consent to use delphi-cookie-response	Cookie which is set when you click on the GDPR/Cookie banner on the website, so that you do not get disturbed by the message in the future.	30 days	No.
pll_language	Used to remember the language setting which was latest used by the visitor.	1 year	No.

How you do to block or delete cookies

- Consenting to our use of cookies is optional and you can at any time choose to withdraw your consent.
- You can block some cookies through your browser settings. In such case, your browser automatically rejects use of such cookies or informs you every time a website (such as ours) requests to use cookies.
- After your visit to our website you can review and delete any permanent cookies that have been stored on your browser. To make identifying our cookies easier we have provided the name of each cookie in the table above.

Here you will find information on how to manage cookies in your particular browser:

Chrome (link: <https://support.google.com/...>)

Safari (link: <https://support.apple.com/...>)

Safari on iPhone and iPad (link: <https://support.apple.com/...>)

Internet Explorer and Microsoft Edge (link: <https://support.microsoft.com/...>)

Firefox (link: <https://support.mozilla.org/...>)

Opera (link: <https://www.opera.com/help/tutorials/security/privacy/>)

More information and the right to make a complaint to a supervisory authority

If you would like more information about cookies, permitted use of cookies or if you would like to complain about our use of cookies you can reach out to the supervisory authority for electronic communication. In Sweden, you can reach out to Post- och telestyrelsen. You can find more information about Post- och telestyrelsen here.

Cookies used by third party

Content from YouTube may be embedded on the website. YouTube places cookies on your computer when you visit youtube.com or when you click on content from YouTube that is embedded on the website. Delphi does not have access to, nor can control, these cookies or the personal data and information that may be collected. Neither does Delphi use any services for target marketing that are offered by YouTube. As a user, you need to check this supplier's website for further information on how it manages cookies, what information it collects and how you can delete any third-party cookies.